

Breast Reduction

An outpatient service to reduce breast size.

About The Procedure

Women with disproportionately large breasts, which is also known as breast macromastia and hyperplasia, can suffer from back pain, impaired breathing, skin rashes, inability to fully exercise, and difficulty finding fitting or stylish clothing.

In some cases, weight loss and physical therapy can help to alleviate some of these symptoms. When conservative measures are not enough and in properly selected cases, breast reduction, also known as reduction mammoplasty and breast lift, can be an appropriate solution.

When considering breast reduction, it is important to choose the right surgeon. Does your surgeon specialize in breast surgery? Does your surgeon have experience? Will your surgeon take the time to understand your goals?

Our surgeons are breast reduction specialists who operate in their own surgical facilities. Each has more than 15 years' experience, does his own pre-operative assessments, and has an absolute commitment to service. If you are looking for quality, then our surgeons are your solution.
