

Arthroscopic Shoulder Debridement

An outpatient shoulder “cleanup” surgery package for when reconstruction is not required

About The Procedure

The ligaments and tendons that connect the arm to the shoulder can be torn or injured by trauma or repetitive use. If this is associated with unrelenting pain, weakness, instability or dysfunction, surgical debridement – “cleanup” – may be indicated. In most cases, surgical repair can be accomplished with minimally invasive arthroscopic surgery.

When considering an arthroscopic shoulder debridement – Mumford distal clavicle resection, capsulotomy, loose body removal, sub-acromial decompression, bursectomy, or another – it is important to know that the surgeon who will carry out your surgery has the experience and focus to deliver the quality you want. It is also important to know what you are paying for.

Allevion offers a comprehensive arthroscopic rotator cuff surgery package that takes into account the experience and focus of the surgeon. Our surgeons are superbly trained. All specialize in arthroscopic shoulder surgery and have done thousands of procedures. They are absolutely committed to service.
