

Urinary Sphincter (male)

An outpatient surgery package to correct severe urinary incontinence in men using an artificial, implanted device.

About The Procedure

Involuntary loss of urine, known as urinary incontinence, is a physically unpleasant and socially embarrassing event that can adversely affect nearly all normal activities. In many cases, incontinence can be managed with medications, or, if due to such conditions as prostate enlargement, with targeted procedures. In severe cases, as can happen after radical prostatectomy, the only real option is surgical implantation of an artificial urinary sphincter (AUS).

When considering placement of an artificial urinary sphincter, it is important to know that the surgeon who will carry out your surgery has the experience and focus to deliver the quality you want. It is also important to know what you are paying for.

Allevion offers a comprehensive artificial urinary sphincter surgery package that takes into account the experience and focus of the surgeon. Our surgeons are superbly trained. All specialize in male continence surgery and are absolutely committed to service.
